

In 1969, my father, Joseph Sanfratello Sr., opened the original Sanfratello's Pizza in a modest single family home in Glenwood, IL. 'Papa Joe' treated everyone like family – his 'house' became a neighborhood hangout that served equal helpings of wholesome food and good times.

The original restaurant in Glenwood circa 1970

Our pizzeria's popularity grew...and my dad hired construction crews to expand the house-turned-restaurant to keep up with demand. The building was both charming and quirky, and many customers had a favorite room in the rambling space.

While the original Glenwood location is no longer in operation, it remains a symbol of how we treated our business like a growing family, building new spaces to welcome new guests.

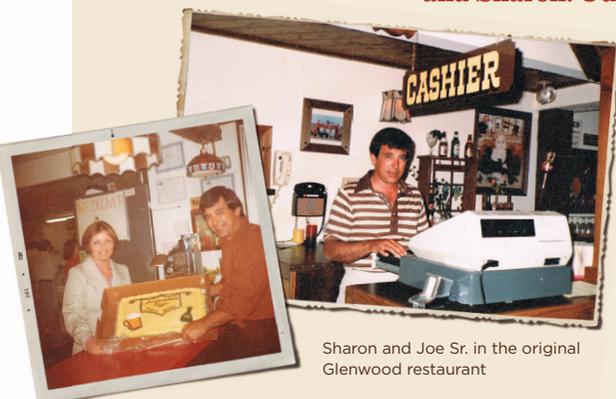

We are thrilled to welcome each and every generation of Sanfratello's fans. Thank you for stopping by!

PS. Our family is Sicilian, which means that we're obsessive about good food. We never skimp on quality – our sauces are made with vine-ripened tomatoes that have a powerful full-bodied taste unlike any other.

We've preserved the original sauce recipes from Grandmas Mary and Sharon. Our Aunt Theresa's Pizza Fritz are the same sweet treats that she served to my friends and me after school. And Grandpa Guido's original slow roasted Italian beef is still among our most popular items.

OUR INGREDIENTS

The Dough

This is the foundation of our famous pizza. It's made from scratch every day at each of our locations using same dough-making process used by Joe Sr. when he opened his first pizzeria. The consistency makes for a perfect blend of crispiness and depth. Our pan pizza dough is a bit lighter which creates the soft texture that Southside pan pizza is known for.

The Sauce

You can almost hear our Sicilian Great-Grandma Mary when you taste her sauce: "Never over-spice ... you need to taste the tomatoes." And, of course, it's all natural.

The Cheese

If it's not Scamorza cheese, it's not Southside pizza. We're the last standing pizzeria that uses this old-school cheese – robust, high-melting-point Scamorza for the perfect thin crust pizza. We save the more melty mozzarella for our pan pizza – which is also delicious.

The Meat

Chicago is the meat capital of the world, and, as far as we're concerned, the ONLY place for true pizza sausage. Ours is made to order from a legendary Chicago butcher.

SPECIALTY PIZZA

Pizza ala Sanfratello's

This pizza was actually invented by a loyal customer who requested Alfredo sauce in place of Great-Grandma Mary's tomato sauce. It caught on. We added mushrooms and sliced tomatoes and the rest, as they say, is history.
